Ascend with Flexera One

Transcend the way your enterprise conducts business with the flexibility of a SaaS delivery model

Organizations are managing increasingly hybrid IT environments, where SaaS and cloud are now the greatest spend drivers. You need your IT solutions to optimize costs, reduce risk and drive ROI.

Moving to Flexera One

Many customers are moving to Flexera One, enabling faster access to the latest features, reducing risk, increasing visibility, and improving spend efficiency for their hybrid IT portfolios.

Step 1: Identify your “why”

When it comes to your IT estate, it's important to determine your company's top priorities, and not just what you're doing today. Understanding which initiatives will provide the highest ROI for your organization is key. This could include gaining better visibility into your IT assets, optimizing IT spending across a hybrid environment or reducing risk. Having clarity into your “why” is important and will help drive success. Managing your hybrid IT estate is essential to making informed decisions on your ITAM assets holistically, and managing SaaS and cloud spend in silos could cost millions of dollars—even more than vendor audits and wasted spend have in the past. Identifying priorities can help you develop a plan to future-proof your business.

Step 2: Build a Plan

Before building a business case and technical plan, it's imperative to involve the right stakeholders. Often, leaders from IT management, operations, finance, procurement, compliance/risk and security are involved in the process. Ensure to also include any additional executives you feel are pertinent to this upgrade.

Our Flexera team is a key resource to enable a smooth transition to Flexera One. Flexera's Executive Advisors have been in the shoes of our customers as former champions of ITAM programs. Together we can help you build a business case and guide you through this experience. Our Solution Architects are available to assist in creating a technical plan for how to maintain business continuity during and after the move, while keeping productivity and ROI in mind.

Step 3: Execute the move

The move itself is easy. A copy of your data is uploaded to your new Flexera One environment, ready for action within 24 to 48 hours. Fully integrating into your legacy business systems and getting started managing your hybrid SaaS and Cloud resources is typically complete in six to eight weeks total.

Step 4: Enjoy the benefits of Flexera One

Once your organization has moved to Flexera One, you can expect increased visibility and spend efficiency for your hybrid IT portfolio, with faster, automated updates, cost savings and more.

It took less than a week from leaving on-premises FlexNet Manager Suite to move to Flexera One. Flexera One gives us a very clear picture about the licenses that we have, the compliance that we are facing and if we are using more than we have procured from different vendors.”
